Other information and reminders	* Well done to ALL of the amazing Hawks this week! Those who sat the tests were so careful, diligent and resilient and we are all so proud of you for doing your best. Those who spent the day with Mrs Morgan have been praised just as much for their work with the Wrens, although Mrs Morgan is concerned that she could be out of a job by the end of the year! * Thank you to those who came along to the meet the teacher session on Tuesday. If you couldn't make it, I've posted the slides on Seesaw - hope that helps. Please do let me know if I missed anything or you have any further questions. * On Wednesday, we have Ian from KiC Theatre in school for our annual fabulous drama sessions. We also have the medical team in school to administer Flu sprays for those who have consented.
English	There's a Boy in the Girl's Bathroom * Reading lots of chapters individually, in pairs or as a whole class. * Charting Bradley's feelings through the book. * Writing a letter of advice to Jeff. * Making our own lists of topics we'd like to discuss (not including anything to do with school!) We then explored what we know about the character Bradley presents to the world and what we think he might be like on the inside. A huge well done to Daisy and Jaylen for their impromptu 1-minute discussion on chalk!
