Homework:

I am setting two pieces of homework for the half term holiday. One is optional and one is for our Yearbooks.

The optional task, is to take home their clay beads (that the children made last week) and paint them. Once painted, they can turn them into a necklace or bracelet and we would love to see the finished items next term.

The task for the Yearbooks, is to locate a 'first day of school' photo (or as close to this age as possible). This can be brought in for me to scan, or can be sent in an email to myself. I would also like the children to start thinking of a favourite/happy memory, and a funny/embarrassing memory.

Have a fantastic half term holiday and I will speak to you all soon!

Mr. J
