

This Week's News

The annual Big Band Day was back this year after a two-year break. Musicians from Simon Langton Boys and Wickhambreaux Primary School joined Barham's musicians to create one big band.

Thanks to the passionate teaching and conducting of Mrs Gove (Simon Langton) and our very own Mrs Washington, the children entertained the school and parents with their fabulous music. It was great to see one of our former pupils, Atti, now in Year 9, back at Barham playing the saxophone.
