

This Week's News

Robins (Y3) were lucky enough to have the inspiring author/illustrator, Christine Balit in class to talk about the process of writing a book. One of her great pieces of advice was about how you can always make something better and that nobody should be afraid of doing something again. The class were delighted to receive a signed copy of her latest book, 'Corinthian Girl'.

This year, Puffins have been learning the cornet with specialist music teacher, Mr Driscoll. On Wednesday, they played to the whole school at the start of hymn practice. Wow! their progress is amazing. We all loved their version of 'Mamma Mia'.

Wrens had some new arrivals in their class this week. There was much excitement as the children watched these ducklings hatch from their eggs. They will have the opportunity to observe them grow for another week before they are returned to the farm.
