

Guess the Teacher!

What is your earliest memory? Walking to school holding my mum's hand.

Were you naughty when you were younger? I was a good girl at school.

What was the best thing about school?

Playing on the adventure playground. Every class played on it once a week and I loved it. It was very similar to our one at Barham.

What was the worst thing about school? Times tables tests. We had a test every Friday morning.

Were you ever told off? I didn't get told off very often but I remember once getting told off at lunchtime. We were sitting in lines at the start of lunch and I was caught talking to my friend instead of being quiet. I had to stand up and everyone looked at me. To make it worse my mum was a midday supervisor and she was there.

Who was your best friend at school? Hannah Ruchay, her mum was a teacher at school. I remember going to her house after school for tea.

What did you want to be when you grew up? I wanted to work in a shop. I had a toy till that beeped and I loved playing with it.

What was your favourite food? I loved chocolate coated foam banana sweets - yum!

Did you like school dinners? I didn't have school dinners. I had sandwiches, I had a blue lunch box with a picture of Holly Hobbie on it. I had either ham or Philadelphia sandwiches every day!

Did you like your teachers? Yes, I liked my teachers.

My headmaster played the piano in assembly and he added extra notes at the end of each line.

What were you frightened of when you were a child? I was really frightened of spiders.

What colour was your school uniform? We didn't have a school uniform.

What was your favourite subject? I loved swimming lessons- we were very lucky because our school had an outdoor swimming pool and I remember loving swimming in the summer.

Did you always do your homework? Yes, I always did my homework. We had a tin of words to learn to spell and read each week. We also had times tables and reading.

What was your favourite animal? Hamsters. My dad was in the Royal Air Force so it was the only pet we could have. We'd go camping on our summer holiday and we'd take our hamster with us.
